Art Class with Kenneth Burns

An opportunity to get creative this winter with a series of art/drawing and painting night classes, with tutor Kenneth "Kenny" Burns, local painter, who returned to live in Stornoway earlier this year. The classes are open to all with an interest in art, offering a chance to gain new skills or hone and exchange existing ones. The pace will be individually led, and the subject matter can also be individual, as art and creativity are individual and fun. Indeed the only real rules in drawing and painting are those of science. Join the classes and all will be explained.

See some of Kenneth's work here:

Authentic Indian Cooking with Manoj

Curry - It's an umbrella term used by the Asians for gravy – which is made with a combination of spices and Herbs. In these classes we will focus on some ingredients that make these, the use of them, the flavours & the combination, so by the end of it you can try your own combinations. You will learn different recipes plus substitutes that you can try to make your own.

About Manoj – Manoj is from Delhi and has spent many years perfecting his craft. Up until June this year, Manoj worked as a Chef at the County Hotel in Stornoway. Manoj has embarked on a computing degree at Lews Castle College UHI but still continues to develop his culinary skills by creating and developing beautiful Indian curries.

Timber Carving (Uisdean Paterson)

This course is aimed at the absolute beginner and provides a good introduction into the world of wood carving. The course will create enthusiasm for the craft and will display how attractive items can be created. Concentration on the achievement of results rather than the theories of wood, tools, techniques and such like, is a particular feature of the course. The instructor is a true master of this craft and many of his carvings are displayed in and around Stornoway. Numbers are limited to a maximum of 8 people on this course.
