Creative Writing

A chance to learn about and try your hand at different genres of writing. Topics covered will be writing for television, writing for the stage, prose and poetry. There will be a mix of group work and individual work, with a chance to share your writing with others.

Muriel Mharie Macleod was born and brought up in Stornoway. She graduated in Fine Art, Painting & Printmaking, and is a distinguished artist and animation film producer. For nine years she was Director of The British Fulbright Scholars Association, contributor and editor of the Fulbright Alumni magazine, and for twenty years illustrated articles for the Scottish edition of the Times Educational Supplement. She lived in the Caribbean for many years, where much of her writing inspiration comes from, and recently returned to Lewis from London. Her novel, What the River Washed Away, was published by One World, and she is represented by Blake Friedmann Literary, Film and TV Agency.

Timber Carving (Uisdean Paterson)

This course is aimed at the absolute beginner and provides a good introduction into the world of wood carving. The course will create enthusiasm for the craft and will display how attractive items can be created. Concentration on the achievement of results rather than the theories of wood, tools, techniques and such like, is a particular feature of the course. The instructor is a true master of this craft and many of his carvings are displayed in and around Stornoway. Numbers are limited to a maximum of 8 people on this course.
